

The map is a detailed topographic representation of a rural area in France. It features contour lines indicating elevation, with peaks like 'Mont Levatel' (752m) and 'Mont Chardon'. Major roads are shown in red, including the A 48 and several departmental roads (D 520, D 50E, D 519, D 119). The 'Périmètre d'étude' is a red-shaded area near the village of Apprieu, situated between the D 520 and D 50E roads. The map also shows various smaller settlements, forests, and water bodies like 'Etang du Thivoley'.