

The map is a detailed topographic representation of a region in the Aisne department. It features contour lines indicating elevation, with peaks reaching up to 565 meters. Major roads are shown in red, and smaller roads in orange. Water bodies, including the Sierroz and Nant rivers, are depicted in blue. The map is densely populated with place names, such as Brison-St-Innocent, Grésy-sur-Aix, and Ais-les-Bains. A prominent red line, labeled 'Périmètre projet' (Project Perimeter), runs vertically through the center-right of the map, highlighting the specific area under consideration for the project. The map also shows various landmarks, such as the 'Forêt de Corsuet' and several 'Font' (fountains) locations.